Vol. XIX.]

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1848.

[No. 5368.]

For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAIN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a use of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of these diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.
To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Violent cramps in Consumptions, the stomach and Lowness of spirits, back
Loss of appetite, Indigestion
Impurity of blood, Melancholy
Hysterical affections, Gout in the stomach Inward weakness, Pains in the limbs and debility, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard,
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness, or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.
The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops
For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of this advertisement.

Robert Perry versus James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunning-ton, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catharine his wife, William Simmons and Esther his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.
THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in pos-father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate.

Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents.—It is thereupon, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a so-wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. Tests.

MY NATIVE ISLE.

Tune—Sir Alexander Macdonald Lochhart's Strathspey.

And must I leave my native Isle,
Fair friendship's eye affection's smile,
The mountain sport, the angler's wife,
The birch and weeping willow, O?
The Highland glen, the healthy gale,
The gleaming glen, the evening tale;
And must I leave my native vale,
And brave the boisterous billow, O?

How sweet to climb the mountain high
While dawning gilds the evening sky,
Or in the shade at noon to lie,
Upon the fell so airy, O!
And when the sun is sinking low,
Through woodland walks to wander slow;
Or kindly in my plaid to rove
My gentle rosy Mary, O!

My native Isle! I love thee well;
I love thee more than I can tell:
Accept my last, my sad farewell:
In thee I may not tarry, O.
What makes the dew drop gild mine eye?
What makes the dew drop gild mine eye?
Alas! that dew would quickly dry,
If 'twere not for my Mary, O!

O youth! thou season light and gay,
How soon thy pleasures melt away!
Like dream dispelled by dawning day,
Or waking wild vagary, O!
The thrush shall quit the woodland dale,
The lark's cheek cease the dawn to hail,
Ere I forget my native vale,
Or my sweet lovely Mary, O!

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Mr. Editor,

Looking over a late number of the National Intelligencer, I discover that the citizens of Washington are making every arrangement to celebrate the approaching anniversary of our independence, in a manner highly becoming a free and independent people. It formerly was a great object to the citizens of this place to do the same, but there does not appear to be any arrangements making in this place, to hail the day that ought to be a jubilee to every American, whether at home or abroad. It formerly was the delight of every class of our citizens to hold that day sacred, and show the world how much they valued the memorable event that caused it to be a national festival. There is no nation, Mr. Editor, that can hail the birth day of our independence, founded on such heart cheering principles, as that of America; then why not join as becomes a free people, and let the world see that we know how to prize our inestimable blessing. America justly has been termed the asylum of oppressed humanity, of which we have undeniable proofs by witnessing (almost daily) the arrivals of innumerable of the oppressed and tax-worn of almost all nations.

Then why not join heart and hand and with one accord hail the day that gave freedom and independence to America. It would no doubt be a gratification to the citizens, both civil and military, to see some arrangements made to celebrate the birth of our independence, as becomes a people that can claim the blessings which were secured to us by our forefathers, on the ever to be remembered 4th day of July.

THE FRIENDS AND MONEY.

The rich Musselman was sick for some weeks, and was astonished that two or three of his most intimate friends never came to visit him. They dare not, said the manager of his affairs; they have borrowed from you large sums of which the time of payment is come, and they are not in a situation to repay you. Well, replied the sick man, go to them in my name, and tell them they owe me nothing; but that I beg them to come for their discharge. I would rather lose money than my friends.

We may add to this little story the double expedient which the poor Sage gives us to deliver ourselves from troublesome people. If they are poor, says he, lend them money; if they are rich, ask them to lend you. In both the one case and the other, you are morally certain of never seeing them again.

Many men would have more wisdom if they had less wit.

ALEXANDRIA: WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1818.

It, as is generally understood, the London Courier speaks the sentiments of the British cabinet, it is reasonable to infer that the courts of Europe, notwithstanding their silence on the subject, are not indifferent observers of our dealings with Spain. If General Jackson therefore shall actually have taken Pensacola, the chance is, that we shall hear of remonstrances; and perhaps of something still more unpleasant. Should that be the case, we venture to predict that the western orator and his train of turbulent, will inveigh against Mr. Monroe for having incurred a war unnecessarily; or in other words, will impeach him of provoking foreign hostilities by defending the lives and property of the country from savage aggression; though he had himself endeavored to make him declare war, upon grounds scarcely less extravagant, unjustifiable, and preposterous, than Don Quixote's quarrel with the wind-mills—less ludicrously erroneous or mischievous than his cutting the wine skins, imagining them to be giant's heads—or less dangerous than his challenging the lion to come forth and fight him, and ordering the keeper to throw open the cage door for the purpose. The difference between the two things is this—that the poor old Don of La Mancha, being crack-brained, seriously decided to fight and to do good—while our adventurous citizen being of perfectly sound and shrewd mind, never thought seriously of either going to war for the patriots, or doing good by his Quixotism—unless to himself and his partisans at a future election.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Salus reipublice suprema lex esto.
Had Rome always regarded this admonition, she might have preserved her liberty and independence—but her sons despising the maxims of their fathers, lost their virtue, and with it their freedom—Thus it appears, that nations, like individuals, are prosperous and happy only whilst they scrupulously regard such laws and rules of conduct, as wisdom and experience have recommended and clearly proved to be most conducive to their welfare. The Romans had not entirely lost their liberty, till morality and religion lost their power. And when men are influenced by neither, is it a subject of wonder that republics have been short lived? Our constitution as Washington left it, was good—it requires his virtue to sustain it; but too frequent attempts at amendments, by faction, will destroy even its own likeness. In order, therefore, to preserve at least some of its features, we should take care at our elections to imitate the example of the best of men, the virtuous Washington, and vote for principles.

In our intercourse with men it is natural to form attachments for individuals of different political principles from our own—in this there is no error; on the contrary, it is a mark of disinterested and genuine philanthropy—it tends to preserve society, and forms a valuable link to unite man to man in harmony and friendship. But still, our reasons and sober judgments should not be made subservient to those predilections or partialities that flow spontaneous from the heart. Her voice should therefore be attended to, and although she counsels in silence, there is safety in her admonitions—they are as audible as if conveyed in a trumpet's blast. Let us then, take her for our guide, fellow citizens of Charles county, sons of federalism, over whom, I confidently trust, the wily arts of sophists will always lose their influence. Trust not to demagogues, nor suffer the present calm to lull you to repose—'tis often the harbinger of ill—then credit not appearances, for the most flattering is not to be relied upon. 'Tis true we have four federal candidates for Congress—believe me you would have less to fear with but one. The votes of St. Mary's will be divided between her native candidates, and the sons of Charles also have their separate interests. What better opportunity (when every tongue is as silly as voluble, in proclaiming a union of parties) can be afforded to rest from you a seat in congress?—None—and rely upon it it will not be allowed to escape. Already a democratic candidate courts the people's favor: let them be aroused from their slumber, or they will open their eyes to witness their disgrace. Know, honest yeomanry of Charles county, that at the moment when the democratic republicans of the west brood over their ill and complain of the treatment of their Clay, who, they say, they will never sacrifice upon the altar of executive resentment and ambition, that some of the leading federalists of Charles county sympathize with them, and offer their support to a democratic candidate. Strange as this may tell, 'tis but too true. And has the name of federalist lost its charm? Has it become a term of reproach? No my countrymen, it can neither lose the one, nor become the other whilst memory holds her power, and the page of history is brightened by the name of Washington—there is, and ever will be magic in its sound—it still strikes upon the ear in mild and gentle accents, and fills the soul with honest transports. A name so dear to liberty and honor, to virtue and to patriotism, nor time nor malice can impair. And yet it has lost a votary in a war-worn soldier—one too, whom three score years have found a steady patriot, and a brave defender of the federal cause. How poor, how rich, how abject, how august, how complicate, how wonderful is man?

The following toast, federalists of Charles co. drank at a public dinner in Lexington, (Kentucky) merits notice:
"President James Monroe—when he acts like a republican, republicans will support him."

Does not this anger well—does it not plainly discover to us, that these anti-federal republicans fear at least that our chief magistrate leans to some other side beside their own? Be this as it may it is very certain that he has too much wisdom to stand aloof from both parties;—poise his weight between federalism and democracy, and thus rest upon neither—a hazardous experiment. We therefore hope, that as the former furnishes a firm and solid basis that can be rested upon with safety and with honor, that it will be preferred and wisely acted upon. Be then propitious heaven, and the cause of virtuous freedom lives to flourish. To you, gentlemen of Charles and St. Mary's, whose amor patrii prompts you to seek for laurels where they are nobly won, I now more immediately address myself: be Spartans all—by ballot choose a single candidate, and save your country's honor and your own.

SCIENTIFIC DISTINCTIONS.

Letters received by the ship Rattina, from London, state, that his excellency De Witt Clinton, L. L. D. governor of New York, was elected a foreign member of the Linnean Society of London, at a meeting of that institution held on the 5th of May last, and under circumstances the most honorable to him and to our country. It appears there were three vacancies of foreign membership caused by deaths during the past year, and the gentlemen elected to those departments were Governor Clinton, Cuvier, and Baron Humboldt.

Letters by the same ship also inform us, that Doctor David Hosack, Fellow of the Linnean and Wernerian Societies, has, at a late meeting of the Horticultural Society of London, been elected an honorary member of that distinguished body. Dr. Hosack has also recently been elected one of the twelve honorary members of the Medical and Chirurgical Society of London. [Ex. Post.]

From the New York Daily Advertiser.

Sir James Macintosh, in his speech in the House of Commons, on the subject of forgeries of the bank of England notes, in the passage which was published in our paper of yesterday, when speaking of our laws on that subject, remarked, "that forgeries were very rare in this country." The learned gentleman was not well informed in this matter. Forgery, or counterfeiting if there is any difference between them, is very frequent in the United States—so much so as to have become the prevailing and alarming crime of the times. Whether this offence is committed here as often as in Great Britain, we pretend not to say.—But that it is previously so, the records of our courts, the registers of our prisons, as well as the columns of our newspapers, abundantly testify. And it is in the nature of things that it should be so. Villains are produced in abundance in our country, and we import large cargoes from abroad. The opportunities afforded here for the commission of the crime being very numerous, and the punishment being lighter, we hold out a strong temptation to foreign rogues to pay us a visit for the purpose of carrying on their trade with more facility, equal profit and far less hazard, than they are able to do at home. The immense multiplication of Banks all over our country, and of course, of Bank notes, furnishes the counterfeiter with an opportunity of exercising his skill, which cannot be found in a country differently situated. There are persons, indeed, who have made it their business to study the physiognomy of bank notes, who are able generally to detect the bad ones upon inspection. But this is not the community. They cannot spare the time necessary for this purpose, nor, if they could, would they, to a multitude of instances, have any standard by which they could try the suspected note, and, of course, they let them all pass without even attempting an examination. And when we take into consideration the endless variety which exists in the bank notes, we cannot wonder that people in general should be unable to distinguish the false from the true. Let any person examine the sample card now exhibiting in the Tontine Coffee House of this city, taken from a single adept in the vocation, and he cannot but be struck with the justice of these remarks.—That card displays no less than six or seven hundred sorts of counterfeited bank notes on as many different banks. Several of these however, are branches of one bank, and they all have the same device. But beyond this, the figures are all various, and the number might be increased to an extent almost commensurate with the number of banks—and, indeed, the same bank has frequently different devices.

No person can fail to discover the confusion and difficulty which this state of things must necessarily produce in the minds of the people at large. The engraving of many of them is not only ingeniously, but elegantly executed; but we believe not so well done, in any instance, as to have escaped counterfeiting. In the bills above mentioned, there are at least a dozen different figures in the devices.

We made some remarks on this subject a twelve month ago and we are more and more convinced of their justice. A large proportion of the spurious notes are alterations from a lower to a higher sum. This species of counterfeiting might, we are persuaded, be almost entirely prevented, or if attempted, would be easily and promptly detected, by common people as well as the more skillful by the general adoption of a simple plan in the form of the notes. Reduce all Bank notes to three sums—five dollars, ten dollars, and twenty dollars, or three other sums that may be more convenient, and fix on a single figure for a device—say the Goddess of Liberty; for the twenty dollar notes, place this figure in the middle of the bill, for the ten dollar notes, place it on the right hand, and for the five dollar notes, on the left hand. This arrangement being once understood, and it would be easily learned and remembered, the moment a bill should be presented with a transposition of figures, it would be detected.

We see not why all banks might not advantageously adopt the same device for their notes and then the detection would take place with regard to all counterfeiters, because the necessary knowledge would be attained with equal ease for all, as for one.

That this subject is highly interesting to individuals, as well as to Banks, must be acknowledged by all; for, first and last, it is probable almost every individual has experienced loss by having had counterfeit notes, imposed upon him; and the subject requires the exertion of legislative attention here as well as in G. Britain.

GENERAL PUTNAM.

The following letter from the venerable president Adams, will, says the Boston Centinel, lead to communications which will vindicate the fame of the veteran General Putnam from the obloquy lately attempted to be cast over it; and may furnish important facts in the history of the Revolution, of great interest to posterity:—

QUINCY, June 19, 1818.

DEAR SIR—I have received your letter of the 16th. My letter to Col. Daniel Putnam of the 5th, is at his and your disposal. You may publish any part of it, or the whole, at your discretion.

I wish the young gentlemen of the age would undertake an analytical investigation of the constitution of the army at Cambridge, and of the detachment from it at Bunker's Hill, and Breed's Hill, on the 16 and 17th of June.

The army at Cambridge was not a national army, for there was no nation. It was not a United States army, for there were no United States, for if it could be said in any sense that the colonies were united, the centre of their union, the congress at Philadelphia had not adopted nor acknowledged the army at Cambridge. It was not a New England army; for New-England had not associated. New-England had no legal legislature, nor any common executive authority, even upon the principles of original authority, or even of original power in the people.

Massachusetts had her army, Connecticut her army, New-Hampshire her army, and Rhode Island her army. These four armies met at Cambridge, and imprisoned the British army in Boston. But who was the sovereign of this united or rather congregated army, and who its commander in chief? It had none. Putnam, Poor and Green were as independent of Ward as Ward was of them. None of them but Ward was subject to the orders of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress. I desire to know from whom Putnam received his commission, and from whom Poor received his commission? And I pray let the commissions of Ward, Putnam, Poor, and Green be all produced.

Where are the orders for taking possession of the heights of Charlestown? Who gave these orders? The Massachusetts Provincial Congress? No. They could give no orders to Gen. Ward, who could give no orders to Putnam, Poor or Green. Were those orders given by a committee of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress? But what authority had that committee? The whole enterprise in Charlestown must have been a volunteer enterprise, as the army at Cambridge was a volunteer army.

Who was the first officer of Massachusetts on Bunker's Hill or Breed's Hill? I have always understood, he was Colonel Pomeroy, or General Pomeroy. Col. Pomeroy might be the most determined, persevering, and efficacious officer of Massachusetts; but, Pomeroy was certainly his superior in command.

But what authority had Putnam to command Colonel Pomeroy or President? I am confident the result will be to the honor of Putnam as a statesman as well as a warrior. I should be glad to know by what authority Gerrish was cashiered? Was it by the Provincial Congress that he was prosecuted, tried and condemned? General Washington could not order his trial, for he had no authority over him. But, sir, I must suppress a thousand questions, and conclude your humble servant.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY.

In the history of medicine, since the discovery of the circulation of the blood by Dr. Harvey, we have not heard of any of equal importance, except a discovery lately made in England by Sir Everard Home, which will most probably overturn the whole of the present practice in medicine.

It has been a prevailing idea, that a drop of any fluid introduced or injected into any of the veins, produced an immediate congelation of the blood; but Sir Everard Home has ascertained by repeated experiments, that medicines directly injected or introduced into the veins, produce their effects more rapidly, with more benefit, and with less injury to the system than when they are swallowed and then pass from the stomach into the circulation.

Sir Everard Home has ascertained not only from experiments made upon himself, but upon many others, that a virus infusion of the colicium autumnale or meadow saffron injected into the veins of the ankle or the leg will cure the most violent Gout. Sir Everard states that he completely recovered from a most violent attack of the Gout in less than twenty hours, by injecting into the circulation sixty drops of this medicine.

Sir Everard mentions, that infusion of ipecacuanha and Jalap injected into the Jugular vein, produced their respective effects of vomiting and purging much more rapidly, and with more ease to the patient, than when taken by the mouth. An infusion of rhubarb when injected, causes a profuse flow of urine. In short, according to the experiments of Sir Everard Home, all medicines whatever act better, are less injurious to the constitution, when injected into the veins than when swallowed by the mouth.

Although the reputation of Sir Everard Home in the science of medicine is of the first rank, yet we would wish to have more satisfactory evidence of the effect of his practice, before we should recommend a trial of it. We have no doubt that all those sciences immediately connected with the animal and vegetable kingdoms are yet in their infancy, and that great improvements will be made before the lapse of many years. [Per Intell.]

I wish the young gentlemen of the age would undertake an analytical investigation of the constitution of the army at Cambridge, and of the detachment from it at Bunker's Hill, and Breed's Hill, on the 16 and 17th of June.

The army at Cambridge was not a national army, for there was no nation. It was not a United States army, for there were no United States, for if it could be said in any sense that the colonies were united, the centre of their union, the congress at Philadelphia had not adopted nor acknowledged the army at Cambridge. It was not a New-England army; for New-England had no legal legislature, nor any common executive authority, even upon the principles of original authority, or even of original power in the people.

Massachusetts had her army, Connecticut her army, New-Hampshire her army, and Rhode Island her army. These four armies met at Cambridge, and imprisoned the British army in Boston. But who was the sovereign of this united or rather congregated army, and who its commander in chief? It had none. Putnam, Poor and Green were as independent of Ward as Ward was of them. None of them but Ward was subject to the orders of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress. I desire to know from whom Putnam received his commission, and from whom Poor received his commission! And I pray let the commissions of Ward, Putnam, Poor, and Green be all produced.

Where are the orders for taking possession of the heights of Charlestown? Who gave these orders? The Massachusetts Provincial Congress? No. They could give no orders to Putnam, Poor or Green. Were these orders given by a committee of the Massachusetts Provincial Congress? But what authority had that committee? The whole enterprise in Charlestown must have been a volunteer enterprise, as the army at Cambridge was a volunteer army.

Who was the first officer of Massachusetts on Bunker's Hill or Breed's Hill? I have always understood, he was Colonel Pomeroy, or General Pomeroy. Col. Prescott might be the most determined, persevering, and efficacious officer of Massachusetts; but, Pomeroy was certainly his superior in command.

But what authority had Putnam to command Colonel Pomeroy or Prescott? I am confident the result will be to the honor of Putnam as a statesman as well as a warrior. I should be glad to know by what authority Gerrish was cashiered? Was it by the Provincial Congress that he was prosecuted, tried and condemned? General Washington could not order his trial, for he had no authority over him. But, sir, I must suppress a thousand questions, and conclude your humble servant.

(Signed) JOHN ADAMS.
George Brintley, esq.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY.

In the history of medicine, since the discovery of the circulation of the blood by Dr. Harvey, we have not heard of any of equal importance, except a discovery lately made in England by Sir Everard Home, which will most probably overturn the whole of the present practice in medicine.

It has been a prevailing idea, that a drop of any fluid introduced or injected into any of the veins, produced an immediate coagulation of the blood; but Sir Everard Home has ascertained by repeated experiments, that medicines directly injected or introduced into the veins, produce their effects more rapidly, with more benefit, and with less injury to the system than when they are swallowed and then pass from the stomach into the circulation.

Sir Everard Home has ascertained not only from experiments made upon himself, but upon many others, that a vinous infusion of the calculeum cuticulae or meadow saffron injected into the veins of the ankle or the leg will cure the most violent Gout. Sir Everard states that he completely recovered from a most violent attack of the Gout in less than twenty hours, by injecting into the circulation sixty drops of this medicine.

Sir Everard mentions, that infusions of ipecaacuanha and Jalap injected into the Jugular vein, produced their respective effects of vomiting and purging much more rapidly, and with more ease to the patient, than when taken by the mouth.

An infusion of rhubarb when injected, causes a profuse flow of urine. In short, according to the experiments of Sir Everard Home, all medicines whatever act better, are less injurious to the constitution, when injected into the veins than when swallowed by the mouth.

Although the reputation of Sir Everard Home in the science of medicine is of the first rank, yet we would wish to have more satisfactory evidence of the effect of his practice, before we should recommend a trial of it. We have no doubt that all those sciences immediately connected with the animal and vegetable kingdoms are yet in their infancy, and that great improvements will be made before the lapse of many years. [Per Ital.

Washington, eighty-five certificates—that eighty-five applicants are returned for further evidence, and that thirty-two are returned "as absolutely inadmissible." Of these last, nineteen are rejected because the service was not for nine months at one time—five because the service was not on the continental establishment—six because the applicants are marked on the rolls as having deserted—one because he belonged to the commissary's department, which is not provided for in the law—and one because it appears that his commission has been altered. Four applications are returned for correction—three are suspended for further examination—and forty-one are not noticed in the return, probably not having been acted upon. It seems therefore that there have been 251 applicants for this pension from the county of Worcester.

For Sale,
A valuable Farm in Jefferson county, Virginia.
BY virtue of a decree of the superior court of chancery for the Richmond district in Virginia, in a suit wherein the executors of General George Washington were plaintiffs, and Gerard Alexander, Thomas L. Alexander, (by Ludwell Lee, his appointed guardian in this case) Ludwell Lee, Richard H. L. Washington, John A. Washington, Bushrod C. Washington and Mary Lee Washington, defendants—will be exposed to sale to the highest bidder, for ready money, on the premises, on TUESDAY, the 15th day of September next, all that tract or parcel of Land, lying in Jefferson county, Virginia, on Bullskin, commonly called Rockhall, containing 540 acres, now in the occupation of John Sanders.
The above tract of land lies about 16 miles from Winchester, and about 6 miles from Charlottesville, and on the main road leading from Winchester to Baltimore, city of Washington and Alexandria. It is well adapted to plaster and clover, and is in quality little inferior, if at all, to that of any farm in that rich valley. The improvements on it are a large two-story frame dwelling house, barn and other necessary out houses.—The water is fine stone and of excellent quality.
Any person wishing to view the premises will be shown them upon application to John A. Washington or Bushrod C. Washington, living near the land.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.
IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.
THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.
All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstract calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.
Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.
The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.
THOMAS COOPER, M. D.
CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.
II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.
III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.
Subscriptions will be received by

James Kennedy & Son,
RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from
LEE'S MEDICINE STORE,
No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:
Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges.
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small flat white worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.
A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions. To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
Hamilton's Grand Restorative.
Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders Violent cramps in Consumptions the stomach and Lowness of spirits back Loss of appetite Indigestion Impurity of blood Melancholy Hysterical affection Gout in the stomach Inward weaknesses Pains in the limbs and debility Relaxations, etc.
Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic palsy, lambo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.
Lee's Ointment for the Itch.
Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.
An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.
The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals; the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ring-worms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.
